THE QUALITY OF A BUGGY SHOWS IN ITS USE.

If you want a buggy of which you can always be sure we have it. It will OUT-WEAR, OUT-LOOK and OUT-STAY any buggy made anywhere by anybody, (no exception whatever) and look better when you have gotten tired of it than most buggies do after 1 or 2 years use. This sounds big and might seem like WIND, but we are back of it all. Our guarantee on this buggy is the strongest ever given on ANY BUGGY by ANY FIRM.

"We guarantee it fully against any defect in material for TWO YEARS from date of purchase. For one year we guarantee wheels, axles, springs, running gear and shafts AGAINST BREAKAGE from any cause whatever. No questions asked at all. If your horse runs away, if you drive over a stump, in fact an accident of any kind breaking up your buggy will be fully covered."

That is the quality of this buggy and the price right. We still have the best, cheap, buggy ever sold in this county. Let us show them to you.

REGULAR KILLING

This Time Occurred at Pembroke Saturday Night.

Claude Bradshaw Jailed Charged With Murdering Dan Butler.

The usual Saturday night negro killing occurred this time near Pembroke. The dead body of a negro named Dan Butler was found on the railroad track Sunday morning. He had been killed and placed on the track. Two bullet holes were in his head and his skull was crushed where the car wheel had struck the head and knocked it out of the way. Claude Bradshaw, another negro, was last seen with the victim and was first to report the finding of the body.

Bradshaw was examined and stated that Butler left him at midnight and said he was going to Mat Enoch's, and that he (Bradshaw) staid in Hollis' undertaking shop in Pembroke, and found the body as he was going home about day.

Mr. F. C. Hollis contradicted this story, saying no one stayed in his shop, and that he was up about day and saw no one about.

The coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, summoned to look into the cause of the death of Dan Butler, who was found dead one mile and a half south of Pembroke, on the east side of the railroad track. We find that there are two bullet holes in his head, one taking effect above the right eye and the other behind the right ear. We further find that some one had killed him and put him on the track. One bullet passed through his head. We find $4.00 on his person and a pistol lying near him. His age was 30 years. He leaves a wife and two children. We further find that Claud Bradshaw was the first man to find him and the last seen with him last night. We charge him with the murder of Dan Butler."

The coroner thereupon arrested Bradshaw and brought him to jail. His trial is set for next Thursday.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Rabid Dog Attacks Mrs. Hayes East of City.

The wife of Mr. A. C. Hayes, who lives a few miles East of the city, narrowly escaped being bitten by a rabid dog a few evenings ago.

A dog belonging to a neighbor became afflicted with the rabies and left home. Although a sharp look-out had been kept for the canine, he was not heard of until he made his appearance at Mr. Hayes' house about dark. Mrs. Hayes was standing at the front gate and the dog made a rush for her. She shut the gate just in time to prevent the animal from seizing her. Mrs. Hayes ran into the house and barred the doors. The dog succeeded in getting into the yard but was shot and killed by Mr. Hayes before he had time to do any damage. As the animal had been roaming in the woods for several days it is feared that he bit stock, and trouble may yet result.

BALDHEADED CLUB.

President Claggett Adopts a Roosevelt Ruling.

Col. Ed Buchanan Explains the Water Cure as Used By the Army.

It looked like old times to see President Claggett presiding over the Baldheaded Club once more last Saturday night.

As heretofore reported, the factional fight that threatened the disruption of the club was brought to a peaceable end at a recent meeting and by general consent Col. Claggett was elected President in a spirit of compromise.

Now that there was no longer any danger of bloodshed, the meeting this time again took on the old air of a pleasant social reunion. President Claggett was arrayed in purple and fineline when he took the chair at exactly the hour of midnight. That is to say, he had on a linen collar and a purple necktie. Of course he wore some other articles of apparel, but these were the most conspicuous features of his attire.

"I see," said the President, "that President Roosevelt has issued an order muzzling Gen. Funston, to keep him from talking his fool head off, telling how he captured Aguinaldo and ended the war in the Philippines. I give Teddy credit for originating a clever idea, and I shall adopt it myself if I find it necessary, in running this club. Those of you who are in the habit of exercising your vocal organs while this body is in session, would do well to ponder seriously on this manifesto number One."

Col. H. W. Tibbs moved that a committee be appointed to investigate how many if any of the five candidates for appellate judge were bald. Col. Walter Southall said he knew them all and to the best of his knowledge and belief at least half of the five were third degree members of the Knights of the Shining Path.

The President appointed on the committee Col. Walter Kelly, Albert Kelly, Wallace Kelly and M. D. Kelly.

Col. Henry Abernathy moved that the sittings of the committee be held at Kelly's Station, but the motion failed to receive a second.

Col. Ed Buchanan, a veteran of the Philippine war, was called upon to explain the "water cure" practiced on the Philippines by the American soldiers.

Col. Buchanan readily consented and began by asking Col. Mat Starling to kindly step forward and be used as an object lesson. Col. Starling begged to be excused and said he would prefer to see some one else take it.

Col. Buchanan then called for some one to volunteer his stomach, but all seemed reluctant to oblige him. Finally he said that while water was generally used, he had telephoned for a keg of cool beer to be used on this occasion. This announcement brought so many volunteers to the front that several members narrowly escaped being run over and seriously hurt. Col. Ed Gathier fell down in the stampede and broke a ten dollar bill. Col. Martin Davis stepped on Col. Bill Cooper's corn and caused him to break one or more of the ten commandments. Finding it difficult to make a selection, or even to get the beer safely through the crowd in the aisle, the Colonel finally decided to depict the horrors of the cure in words only, which he proceeded to do, though his talk was not closely followed by all of his hearers. He told how the nozzle of a syringe was inserted into the mouth of the native, who was held fast to prevent struggling, and the liquid was pumped into his stomach until he consented to tell all he knew, or would be too full for utterance," as a famous Grecian humorist used to say in 428 B. C. His description of the sufferings of the victim when water was used was so graphic and pathetic that several members shed barn tiers.

When Col. Buchanan had told all he knew, which took about 11 minutes, Col. Joe Twyman reported that Mr. Harry Bryan was in the ante room claiming the right to join the club as a baldheaded man.

President Claggett appointed a committee of five to examine into the applicant's qualifications for membership. He named Col. Jas. West, Byron West, G. U. West, R. D. West and P. E. West. They reported that Mr. Bryan was not bald but had merely shaved his head and that the committee had advised him to go west and tarry in Cadiz until his hair could grow.

There being no further business before the club, the session was brought to a close.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the ordinary process of nature is beautiful and majestic. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it makes it more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. But old age as it often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. We abuse it, overlook it, injure it. But when old age comes on the stomach is worked out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body and the body unnourished falls into senile decay.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor." Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old peoples strong.

THE ALLEY MAN'S STRATEGY.

TIM was an alley man. Everybody who lives on the North Side knows what an alley man is. He is the man who does odd jobs for a dozen families and sleeps in the furnace-room of the particular family which has shown the greatest toleration for his presence and to which he owes paramount allegiance. The alley man generally drifts into the neighborhood, performs some service that gives him a title to recognition and thereafter he settles into the neighborhood, extending his operations until he has ten or a dozen households which call upon him for occasional service and one household which he calls his own.

Tim the alley man did a service one day for 15-year-old Jimmie Rutgers, who lived with his parents in a color house on Astor street, colonial though it was built only ten years ago;
but of such is the kingdom of evil.
Jimmie Rutgers was driving a horse and buggy, and with only one rein at his command Jimmie, though plucky
and a good driver, could do nothing, and the horse bolted. Tim stopped the runaway before much harm was done to either vehicle or driver, but in doing so Tim got a smashed rib. Thereafter he had a frog in the leg. He had a fine home in the steam-heated stable, and would have been put in charge of the horses had it not been that Tim had an occasional weakness for gin. He ate at the Rutgers' kitchen table, did about three errands a week for the household and did about as many more for each of a dozen other families living along the fashionable thoroughfare.

One-half the errands that the alley man runs are at the request of the cook, the landlady or one of the minor maids. This makes the alley man welcome to every kitchen, and he accounts largely for the fact that his household is generally kept pretty well informed about the doings of the other household. Tim, however, wasn't much of a gossip. He was getting on in years, and he knew that no matter how great the service rendered might have been, that many an alley man had lost his clientage because he couldn't keep his tongue between his teeth. Tim had been around the North Side neighborhood for ten years. He had the strongest kind of affection for Jimmie Rutgers now James Rutgers, lawyer, age 25. The lawyer reciprocated the feeling, and more than one had stood between Tim and the displeasure of the head of the house, when Tim had looked upon the head of the house as it was white and gave no color in the eye.

Now it happened not long ago that James Rutgers began to think a bit seriously of marriage. About three evenings every week he called at a certain Goethe street residence, on Miss Victoria Mainwaring, who was stunning beyond all question, and who had a lot of money in her father's right. Mr. Jimmie, as Tim called him, also called about once every two weeks
at a modest Schiller street residence,
where lived Miss Agnes Merrithought, who was pretty if not stunning, and who did not have a lot of money in the right of her father or anybody else.

Tim occasionally took flowers to the residence of Victoria Mainwaring and somewhat less than semi-occasionally took them to the residence of Miss Agnes. Tim noticed that his flower-bearing trips to Goethe street were getting more frequent and that those to Schiller street were getting correspondingly infrequent. There were other things that told him that Mr.
Jimmie was "getting sick." Tim put it, in the Goethe street quarter.

Now Tim knew a thing or two. He had run errands several times a week for two years for both the Mainwaring and the Merrithought households, in addition to having toiled many a bou-quet and bonbon box to both places for Mr. Jimmie. With his heart shud-ding tears, so to speak, Tim saw the growing preference of the heir of the Rutgers for "that Mainwaring girl."
It had reached the point where there was gossip about it in the kitchens, and the cooks one and all predicted an early marriage, as they had of late of Rutgers versus Mainwaring.

One morning Mr. Jimmie appeared in the stable and called Tim down from above. He led the alley man into the conservatory and pointed out two potted azaleas, both laden with white blossoms.

"Tim," he said, "I want you to take one of these plants to Miss Mainwaring and the other to Miss Merrithought.
My father and mother are both in Florida and these beauties are waiting their sweetest here."

It must have been an inspiration with Tim. He knew the Mainwaring and the Merrithought households as Master Jimmie never dreamed of knowing them. He knew the young ladies, too.
Yes, it must have been an inspiration.
"Mr. Jimmie," said Tim, "you've told me time and again that I once done you a service. Maybe I did, but I ain't never spoke of it during ten years.
Now I want you to do me a service, and maybe you'll be doing one for yourself at the same time. You may think I am crazy, but I'm not. It's an awful cold day, and I want you to take my jumper, my overalls, my old mitts and my knit cap that pulls 'way down over the ears and face and take those pots of azaleas to Miss Mainwaring's and Miss Merrithought's, yourself. No, I ain't crazy, and I want you to do something more. Just when the young ladies are going to take 'em—you can go into the house with 'em, 'cause they'll think it's me and I'm privileged —you accidentally slip and let the pots fall and break, but don't you do it unless the young ladies are there."

Mr. Jimmie looked at Tim a moment, as though he actually did think him demented, but then something of a light broke in on his mind, and without a word of question he said: "Tim, I'll do it."

It took only five minutes to turn Jimmie Rutgers into Tim, the alley man.
Jimmie took an azalea under one arm and started out. He went by way of the kitchen and had the coffee-maker hearing the cook tell him that she wanted him to do an errand for her when he came back. The cookman called him Tim as he passed through the stable. His cap was 'way down over his eyes, and the turn-down attachment was brought forward to hide his eyes and his chin. He reached the Mainwaring establishment and rang the bell at the lower door. The maid said: "Good morning, Tim."

"This is for Miss Victoria," said Jimmie. "It's heavy, and I'll carry it up to the parlor myself. It's there."

Jimmie mounted the stairway and went to the parlor, where Miss Mainwaring was reclining in an easy-chair.
It was 10:30 o'clock, but, as the day was so warm, she had her feet on a rug and dropped the pot. It broke into 30 pieces and the earth went all over the floor.

The Victoria Mainwaring, whom he had known as the embodiment of all that was sweet and good and gentle, broke out. Jimmie heard himself called a blundering beast, an alley rat, scoundrel and a few other choice things that fell from lips that he supposed could drop nothing but pearls. He got out of range, somehow, and made his way back to the conservatory.

Tim looked at his wall with a critical eye and probably saw something in his face that pleased him, for he saw Mr. Jimmie left with the other potted azalea. Tim was chuckling again.

Jimmie got into the Merrithought household on Schiller street and well-nigh duplicated the Goethe street performance up to the point immediately after breaking of the pot and the spilling of the dirt all over the parlor floor.
He had noted, however, that Miss Agnes said: "Good morning, Tim," and had told him that it was good of him to bring the flower around in such weather. When the pot was smashed to smithereens Jimmie blurted out an apology.

"All right, Tim," said Miss Merrithought. "I'll call Sarah, and between you both you can gather up the dirt and put it in another pot and replace the azalea and it will grow as well as ever. These rugs are slippery things and you couldn't help dropping it.
Don't feel badly about it; it wasn't your fault."

Jimmie reported the plant and got out of the house some way. He didn't feel cold, notwithstanding the fact that, unlike Tim, he wore no sweater
under the alley man's blue jumper.
Nothing was said in the conservatory,
but for some reason or other Tim felt perfectly satisfied.

Just one year from that time there was a wedding on Schiller street, and the contracting parties, it is more than needless to say, were James and Agnes.
They are living now in a North Shore suburb, and Tim says he likes the country lanes better than the city alleys.

One day recently Mrs. Rutgers said:
"Jimmie, why was it you would have no decorations at our wedding except potted azaleas?"

"Well, my dear," said Jimmie, "you must ask Tim."—Edward B. Clark, in Chicago Record-Herald.

WOMAN'S SPHERE

All accepted theories of woman's sphere have been set at naught by woman's progress. Not only are there women physicians, women lawyers, women preachers, women conpositors, etc., but recently an attempt was made to establish women as conductors of a street-car line. It is announced that a woman has recently received a pilot's certificate and license. Another woman has been discovered conducting a butcher's business, and yet another works at the blacksmith's forge. In the last two cases the women were widows and having no other means of support, entered upon the occupations their husbands had followed and practiced them with success. From facts like these, arguments have been made that in time there will be no occupation free from the encroachments of woman. But it is easy to see that under ordinary conditions few women could undertake to do successfully the hard manual labor to which men are accustomed. Many a woman finds herself utterly unable to perform the easiest household duties at certain periods, because she suffers from pains which make her incapable of the least physical effort. A majority of women suffer from backache, headache, sideache, nervousness and other feminine ailments which would make it impossible for them to take up a man's tasks. As long as this condition lasts the women who enter upon what have been deemed manly occupations will be the exception, not the rule.

But will this condition of womanly weakness and sickness last always? It will not, because every day woman is discovering by actual test that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well.
It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, and other feminine ailments which are the result of womanly disease.

"You have my heartfelt thanks for your kind advice to me in my sickness," writes Mrs. George Fletcher, of 106 Victoria Avenue, Galt, Ont. "I was troubled with catarrh of uterus for over a year. The doctors said I would have to go through an operation, but I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also his 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories.' Now I am completely cured, after using only six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am glad to say my medicine has made me a new woman."

"I can truthfully say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine and deserves the praise given it," writes Mrs.
Emma Spooner, of Lakeview, Montclair Co., Mich., Box 288. "I was sick four months, and the medicine prescribed by the doctors did me no good. Finally I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for his advice. He answered, in a very kind letter, instructing me what to do. I followed his advice and to-day am a well woman, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room.
Could not sit up just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help to do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my household work. It is the best medicine I ever used."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures forty-nine out of fifty women who give it a fair and faithful trial. It is remarkable for the variety of female diseases it cures. There is no disease peculiar to women which will not be benefited by the use of "Favorite Prescription." In many cases, as in Mrs. Fletcher's, it cures when doctors say an operation is necessary.

Any weak or sick woman is invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private, and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in personal consultations with sick women at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Do not contest this offer of free consultation, by letter, made by Dr. Pierce with offers of "free medical advice" made by men or women who are not physicians, and have neither the medical education nor the legal right to practice medicine. Such advice is worse than worthless; it is dangerous.

In a little more than thirty years Dr. R. V. Pierce, as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women. In inviting you to consult him, by letter, free, Dr. Pierce places at your service, without charge, the resources of one of the greatest and best known medical institutes in the country.

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

THERE'S NOTHING BETTER

COURAGE OF THE STALKER.

As Even Chance Between the Hunter and the Hunted.

It must be quite unmythical to stalk the quarry, whether it be a woodcock or a deer, says the London Mail. Our ancestors must have been very skilled in this art of stalking, to creep and crouch and crawl near enough to secure their game with such weapons as they had at their command. In secret places, and particularly as night draws on, the fascination of these wilder field sports is distinctly enhanced. It is then we feel fierer of the trammels of civilization; more, more, more to nature—though more awed by her than at any other time.

The detractors of our English field sports, hunting, shooting, and fishing alike—fishing is usually left off more lightly than the other two, though it is a little puzzling to know on what grounds—sometimes affect to despise them on the ground that there is no danger of reprisal; they urge that the sport should imply danger to the hunter as well as to the hunted. There seems no ground for this assertion.

At the same time, the excitement of the stalk would obviously be more tremendous were there this ever-present danger, which the nonsporting man would wish to see.

Imagine, for instance, going single-handed afoot after the tiger into the jungle! Some Englishmen have done that, and commonly it has been their last stalk. And then one has read stories of how some of the South American Indian hunters killed themselves against the most terrible beast—the jaguar, was it not?—of their forests. Only in that case, instead of stalking the game, they let the game stalk them, standing naked, still as stone, with short, uplifted spear, till the jaguar crept so near as to snuff the very feet of the hunter, and then, at the psychological moment, the statue came to life and the spear home—omitted, and was destroyed.

TOOK HIS ADVICE.

Then the Man Who Gave It Wished He Hadn't.

After she had been married six months she went to her old bachelor uncle, who believed in a matrimonial alliance as a voluntary acceptance of slavery.

"Suffering from the conjugal yoke," he replied to her presentation of afflictions.

"No, uncle, from the conjugal yoke," she would not humor his prejudices.

"Same thing," with a hardened voice. "But I require details before giving advice."

"Well, he is a practical joker of the worst sort. He delights to slip into my tea; wake me out of a sound sleep by playing bridge; send anonymous letters threatening to burn the house down; tell me that he has failed, and that the workhouse stares at his face; swear that the house is haunted; anything to scare me and give me a laugh."

"Of course. Marriage makes a brute of a man and a fool of a woman. But don't you be so soft little. Go right back at him with his own weapons. Mix glue with his shaving-cream. Dust the inside of his under-clothing with cayenne pepper. Put sand in his shoes. Change his best hat for one two sizes larger. Pretend to fall in love with some other fellow. Keep him in hot water day and night. I guarantee you will cure him."

She acted on his advice. The husband thrashed the mule. The wife is of the opinion he did just right, and now there is a prospect that they will live happily ever after—London Tit-Bits.

MAINE BEAVERS.

Killed a Dam That Is Better Than Some Constructed by Man.

The biggest beaver dam ever seen in Maine is now attracting hundreds of people to Carleton, on the Aroostook river. Two miles from the village the beavers have built a dam of logs and mud 250 feet long, turning the river back upon the lowlands for a distance of three miles and thus creating a great lake. Trees a foot in diameter have been cut down by the beavers, the branches trimmed off and the trunks in some mysterious manner brought to the dam and submerged. The dam is better than many on the river that have been built by men, and the Carleton people are rather proud of it. Over 1,000 beavers have worked hard on this job for several months, and they will be allowed to remain in possession all winter.—Lawson Journal.

COUNTERFEITING CASES.

The average number of counterfeit cases now handled annually is about 600, and of this number nearly 500 are cases of counterfeit and habitual violators of these laws.

A COMPOSER'S TROUBLES.

He Is So Strenuously Musical He Thinks of Little Else.

Lawler is a musician by birth, breeding, education and every instinct of his nature.

His father was a musician, and so was his father's father. So, as his wife plaintively puts it, "according to the Chicago Daily News, 'He really can't help himself, poor dear.' But even her charity does not cover the multitude of sins of which he is guilty, all on account of this predilection handed down to him by his ancestors."

Of course, being a musician and eccentric, he chose a pretty, dainty little wife, with eyes and ears for something else than the strains of a piano.

One night when he had exacted a promise from her husband to be home to dinner on time, she was to entertain some out-of-town friends who had been invited especially to meet him, he arrived home just as coffee was being served. Mrs. Lawler swallowed her wrath and said, sweetly:

"I am sorry you were detained at the office, dear."

"I wasn't actually detained," Lawler blurted out.

The guests looked up in surprise. "You see, my dear," Lawler began, as he drank black coffee, unmindful of what should have preceded it, "that foot conductor carried me six blocks beyond the transfer station and I had to take a car back."

"That shouldn't have made you an hour late," she protested.

"But you see, the second conductor carried me as far as the other way."

"Oh!" coldly.

"And—queerest thing—the third carried me back again, and—"

"George!" severely.

"Yes, Marion."

"Weren't you composing?"

She might have fitted the same tone to "I was going out to court a little thing of Brown's. It's good, but it needs a few changes. I think I've got it just as I want it. I'll try it on the piano."

Mrs. Lawler sighed, but followed her guests to the music room. She doesn't see the use of being so strenuously musical.

Of the most trying ordeals in Mrs. Lawler's life is going out to concerts with her husband. Should the number holding their attention happen to strike his musical soul with unusual force his head drops forward, his shoulders roll and soon every part of his body is moving in perfect time to the music. His head goes faster and faster, his mouth flies open, his eyes glow and he is a living embodiment of the song. When it ends he drops back exhausted and perspiring.

Mrs. Lawler makes it her wifely duty to watch him and gently pull his coat sleeve, reminding him where he is. Then Lawler will sit up guiltily, like a sleepy man in church, and look about him, as much as to say: "I'm wide awake. Can't you see I am?"

The other day Mrs. Lawler went out of the city for several days.

Lawler, stammering along a downtown street, heard strains of music that he recognized as his own coming from a vaudeville theater. Naturally interested, he went in and sat down in a conspicuous place in the front row. It was a ragtime song and he had taught the two performers to sing it.

He listened closely, and gradually his head fell forward, his mouth opened and the usual performance began. Lawler in pantomime, was more interesting to the audience, evidently than Lawler on the stage.

Suddenly a strong hand fell on his shoulder with a mighty grasp. He felt himself jerked and shaken, the like of which he had never experienced since his school days.

Foebly protesting, he was drawn toward the door.

"What—does this mean?" he managed to gasp out.

"You know well enough," the theatre manager roared out, "coming in here to disturb the performance. Make any more noise about it and I'll have you arrested. Now git!" Then he actually pushed the astonished composer into the street.

The story would probably never have got out but that Lawler, puzzled by the manner in which the theatre manager's friend presented the matter to several of his friends for solution, and the poor man is still in the dark, as they invariably burst into roars of laughter.

When his wife comes home doubtless she will enlighten him.

CONCLAVE PROGRAM.

Some of the Delightful Features to Be Provided for the Knights Templar at Versailles.

The official program for the 55th annual Conclave of the Kentucky Knights Templar which convenes in Versailles on the 21st and 22d of May, is about completed and consists in part of the following attractive features: Tuesday evening May 20th—Arrival of visiting Commanderies and escorting them to their headquarters. Informal reception and recognition meeting at the headquarters of the Versailles Commandery. Wandering minstrels and serenade parties.

Wednesday, May 22d, 9 a. m.—Grand Dress Parade, composed of the various Commanderies of the State, and headed by mounted escort.

Fight brass bands in line.

10 a. m.—Annual sermon and religious services at the Presbyterian church.

11 a. m.—Address of welcome and responses at Court House.

12:30—Luncheon at headquarters of Versailles Commandery.

2 p. m.—Assembling at the Court House of the Grand Commandery.

3:30 p. m.—Exhibition Drill.

Receptions at headquarters of the various visiting Commanderies until 6 p. m.

6:30 to 8:30 p. m.—Receptions and balls by Louisville and DeMolay Commanderies.

Thursday a. m. May 22—Session of Grand Commandery.

Visit to the stock farms and historic homes of Woodford. Carriage drives to various points of interest.

Luncheon at headquarters of the Versailles Commandery.

Afternoon—Receptions at headquarters of visiting Commanderies. Carriage drives continued and samples of Woodford's hospitality at country homes. Woodland drives; promenade concerts.

Night—Installation of officers of Grand Commandery at Court House. Grand Reception and Ball by the Versailles Commandery at the Masonic Temple. Farewell serenades.

Friday morning—Speeding of the departing guests.

Letters already received by the committee on entertainment indicate that this will be the largest annual Conclave of the Knights Templar ever held in Kentucky.

It will be characterized by genuine hospitality and a rollicking good time will be guaranteed every Knight and lady who attend this Tournaement.

CASITORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Signature of Japan's First Breach of Promise.

One feature of western civilization has just made its first appearance in Japan, where a native woman has brought out as a breach of promise, hitherto an unknown procedure in the land of the chrysanthemum. The lady in question is a wise young widow, who induced her well-to-do wooer to sign an agreement that in case either party wanted to back out he should forfeit 1,000 yen to the other. The prospective bridegroom broke the engagement.

The State Christian Endeavor convention met at Cynthiana Friday with 200 delegates and visitors in attendance. The Epworth League conference was in session at Mt. Sterling at the same time.

The Kentucky Press Association will meet this year in Owensboro on July 7 and take an excursion to Put-in-Bay, Mt. Clemens, Detroit, St. Clair Flats and other points on the lakes.

This year's graduating class at the United States Naval Academy numbered fifty-nine. The following Kentuckians graduated: Robert Wallace, Jr., Louisville; William W. Smith, Versailles; and Roscoe Conkline Davis, Ashland.

And now it is the Moon railroad that has fallen into the grasp of Morgan, through Gates' manipulations. The purchase was made to give the L. & N. an entrance into Chicago and it is said that the Morgan and the L. & N. are to be merged into one system to be known as the Chicago and New Orleans Railway.

The first legislative step looking to the establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and Cuba has been taken by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. A salary of $12,000, or $2,000 more than the President recommended, is provided for a Minister to Cuba, and provision is made for three Consulates, instead of two, the addition being Matanzas, with a Consul at $3,500 per annum. The other two are Cienfuegos and Santiago, at $3,000 each. There is to be a Consul-General at Havana, with a salary of $5,000; also, a Secretary and an Assistant Secretary of Legation, at salaries of $2,000 and $1,500, respectively. Two thousand dollars, also, is allowed for rent of legation buildings.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reputable physician, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you may derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney and Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people feel weak all the time.

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I am thankful to say," writes J. L. Campbell, of Syracuse, Ill., "that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me. For many years I was troubled with backache. At times I was so bad I had to be helped from the bed or chair. I am now well and strong and free from pain. What this great medicine did for me I had done for others."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Promises to cure and keeps the promise. Begin treatment with Hood's today.

The Owensboro Inquirer says the price of "Whisky and other necessities of life," have mounted skywards in that city. Here is its plaintive wail:

"At all of the bars in the city the price of bottled-in-bond whisky has been raised to 15 cents a drink and 25 a quart. There is no raise in other drinks, the plain whisky, which may be as good or even better, remaining at 10 cents. Nearly all of the boarding houses have raised their prices 50 cents on the week in order to keep going in the face of advancing prices of meat and other necessities. The same cause forced the Rudd House to raise its rates 50 cents a day for rooms and meals to $2.50, $3 and $3.50, and to 75 cents for meals."

An air of spring pervades Scribner's Magazine for May. It contains a beautiful drawing in color by Henry McCarter to illustrate Heine's "May-Song"; there is a breezy salt water narrative by James B. Connolly who gives his adventures "On a North Sea Smack" (illustrated by M. J. Burns)—another of those inimitable fishing sketches which have already put Mr. Connolly in the front rank of writers of the sea; an exciting "Fight with Muskallonge," by John R. Rathom, who in a very brief space gives the reader all the sensation that an expert fisherman gets in landing a gamy fish (illustrated with a spirited picture by A. B. Frost); and there is an "Early May" poem by John Burroughs.

A double frontispiece in color by Maxfield Parrish, showing desert and reclaimed land in Arizona side by side, accentuates the beginning in the May Century of the promised series on "The Great Southwest" by Ray Stannard Baker, the other illustrations of which are also from drawings by Mr. Parrish. The first part deals with the large aspects of this little known region—natural features, climate, population, irrigation, character; character of the people, etc. "The Capital of Our Democracy," by Henry Loomis Nelson, is a close study of Washington society by an experienced observer, with much anecdote and with illuminating pictures by Charlotte Harding.

Princeton has a daily paper that presents a very creditable appearance. It has just been started by Editor McGregor of the Leader. The Leader, daily and weekly, seems to be setting a new pace for journalism in Princeton.

Potter Palmer, the richest man in Chicago, dropped dead of heart failure Sunday. He was 76 years old. His wife, who was Miss Bertha Honore of Louisville, was president of the woman managers of the World's Fair in 1893.

Ala-n-Dale, the colt that won the Louisville Derby Saturday, is too lame to race again this season. His owner, McDowell, values him at $50,000.

Gen. Davis reports the slaughter of 208 Dattoes in taking a fort on Mindpoo Island defended by 300 men. The Sultan was among the slain. The other 92 were captured. The American loss was seven killed and 41 wounded.

BUSY SESSION.

Council Transacts Much Routine Business Friday Night.

Much routine business was transacted by the city council Friday night.

The usual reports were received and accounts allowed.

The final report of L. C. Cravens for 1896 taxes was received and referred.

Health officer Woodard entered a formal complaint at the condition of the sewer on Fourth street and an investigation was ordered.
Esq. Alex Campbell, delinquent tax collector for 1901, was allowed to make a $1,000 bond.

In open council 122 coupons of the first series of new city refunding bonds were burned.

The council adjourned to meet again Monday night to conclude its business.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cure After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned. Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists."

K. P. MEETING.

Great Preparations Being Made For Next Gathering.

The National Biennial Gathering of the Knights of Pythias, which is to be held in San Francisco, August 10th to 20th, is probably destined to become memorable as the greatest fraternal gathering in the history of this country, in point of numbers as well as of splendor. The people of San Francisco and of California are determined that it shall eclipse all similar conventions ever held in the United States. Never before was there such unanimity of action among all the people of the coast. It is not the members of the order alone who take such a lively interest in the coming gathering of the hosts, but merchants, manufacturers, farmers and miners, all are interested to make the affair a glorious one for California and the most pleasant for the visitors. It will be made the occasion for showing the famed beauties of this wonderful land of the West. Every county and section of the State will bring its choicest products, and place them on exhibition. The city is to be transformed into a fairy land, and the night will be turned into day. Carloads of the choicest fruits will be sent each day from different sections for free distribution. The famous gardens of Santa Clara, Marin and Sonoma counties are to furnish the material for the grandest floral display ever seen. The giants of California's famous forests will be planted at convenient points for visitors to gaze at. Bearing trees from the citrus belt will be brought by the thousands and set along the curbs. Quartz and hydraulic mining will be in operation as an object lesson to visitors, and oil wells will be bored to show the operation to those

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found to remedy your trouble. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to get it. Write at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Elgin, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar bottles are sold by all good druggists.

who cannot visit every section of the State to behold its wonders and glories. Fifteen thousand Knights of the Uniform Rank will be in the parade, escorted by the National Guard of California and the troops of the United States army stationed at the Government Reservation and the forts near the city. Trophies made of California gold and silver, the most valuable ever offered will be given by the citizens for the competitive drill. The temperature in August is mild, from 65 to 70 degrees, with a mild breeze from the ocean. The climate is the most agreeable that can be imagined. There is ample accommodation in the city for 200,000 visitors—that has been demonstrated on two recent occasions, when fully that number of strangers visited the city at one time, and all were comfortably housed. Besides this, Congress has authorized the Secretary of War to issue 1,000 wall tents for use during the encampment, and as many more tents will be issued as may be required. These, and the 5,000 bunks to be placed in the great pavilion, will be at the disposal of members of the order, and of those who prefer outdoor life during the camp. Living in San Francisco, that is, good living, is cheaper than in any other large city in the Union. Fruit and vegetables grow in abundance the year round; there is no hot, nor cold, nor an off season. Meat is plentiful and cheap, and it is the very best quality. Good rooms may be had at 50 cents a night, or at $3 a week, in the residence part. In August fruit enough can be had from any street vender for five cents to feed a family.

Now, as to the rates of transportation: The Trans-Continental Passenger Association has agreed upon the following excursion rates for the round trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles, good from August 2 to September 30, for the return: from Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior and all adjacent points, $60; Peoria, $48; Hannibal, St. Louis, Cairo, Memphis, New Orleans, Shreveport, $47 50; Missouri River points, Mincola, Houston and San Antonio, $45; Colorado points, $40; Salt Lake, $36 50; Albuquerque, El Paso and Ogden, $35. The same rates govern all points and stations of the same distance. First class trains and accommodations will be run during the entire excursion season. The rates for side trips are lower than ever in the history of coast travel, affording visitors an opportunity to see the whole coast and interior during their stay.

On account of the meeting of the new Louisville Jockey club the I. C. railroad will sell round trip tickets to Louisville, on May 2 to 24, inclusive at 1 1/2, limited to May 26. Tickets will be sold at one fare on May 2, 9, 16 and 23 limited to three days from date of sale.

Wont Follow Advice After Paying For It.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patients to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, merely the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by all druggists.

No Loss of Time.

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for years, and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to merchants that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning.—H. R. PHELPS, Plymouth, Oklahoma. As will be seen by the above the thrashers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this Remedy in your home. For sale by all druggists.

Trigg Circuit Court.

Trigg Circuit Court convened at Cadiz yesterday. The docket is much heavier than at the last term of court.

The most vigorous workers have spells of "tired feeling" now and then. This feeling is caused by derangement in the stomach, liver and bowels. A few doses of Prickly Ash Bitters quickly correct the disorder and sends the blood tingling through the veins, carrying life and energy throughout the system. R. C. Hardwick, Special Agent.

Railroad Officials Elected.

J. P. White has been elected general passenger and freight agent, and auditor of the Cadiz railroad. D. L. Grieter was elected roadmaster.

The Most Common Ailment.

More people suffer from rheumatism than from any other ailment. This is wholly unnecessary, for a cure may be effected at a very small cost. G. W. Wescott, of Meadowdale, N. ## USEFUL LIFE ENDED.

Congressman Amos J. Cummings, Dies In Baltimore.

Had Been a Typesetter, Soldier, Editor and Was a Congressman For Many Years.

Baltimore, May 2.—Congressman Amos J. Cummings, of New York, died at 10:15 o'clock to-night at the Church Home Infirmary in this city. The cause of his death was pneumonia, incident to an operation. The Congressman's wife and cousin, Charles H. Cummings, were at his bedside when death came.

Mr. Cummings entered a printing office when he was twelve years of age as an apprentice, and had set type in almost every State in the Union. He entered the army as a Sergeant Major in the Twenty-sixth New Jersey regiment of infantry and received the Congressional medal of honor for gallantry on the battlefield.

He filled editorial positions on the New York Tribune under Horace Greeley, and in later years was connected from time to time with many of the New York papers, including the New York Herald and Evening Sun.

He was elected as a Democrat to each Congress from the Fiftieth to the present one. Mr. Cummings was born in Conkling, N. Y., and would have celebrated his sixty-first birthday May 15, had he lived.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: "Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINEY HALL, Springfield, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by all druggists.

ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Mr. James E. Cooper To Wed His Former Wife.

Mr. Jas. E. Cooper, of this city, will be married Thursday, at Paducah, to his former wife, now Miss Carrie Rieke. After being divorced from Mr. Cooper, Miss Rieke married Gus Burnett, of Paducah, from whom she was divorced a year or two later and was for the second time restored to her maiden name. Then the old love was revived between Mr. Cooper and Miss Rieke and the wedding of this week will be the result.

They will come at once to this city to live.

CHANGE OF DATE

For Graduates' Examinations Announced by Superintendent of Schools.

The examination for graduation in the common schools of the county will be held at the office of the County Superintendent on Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, 1902. Miss Mayme Lam, of Greenville, Ky., went home Friday afternoon and returned yesterday. Mrs. George Phelps entertained Misses Drake, Eades, Ida Schaefer, Francis Huddleston, Ella Shaw, Georgia Rushing, Ethel Probst, Polly Graves, Edith Allen and Jessie Garrett Saturday afternoon.

KALOZETZ SOCIETY NOTES.
Owing to an examination Friday, several of the members of the society were not present, among the number the president.

Notwithstanding this fact the program was very much enjoyed. There was a sketch of Miss Johnson by Miss Elsie Baker, and a very amusing selection from a modern novel by Miss Della Wadlington and also an essay on historical novels by Miss Ethyl Frost.

The most charming number on the program was a piano solo by little Miss Katherine Harrison.

TO FIGHT DIVORCES.

Part of the Duties of the County Attorney.

The Owensboro Inquirer says the county attorney has missed several good fees by not enforcing section 2119 of the Kentucky statutes, and at the same time his firm has lost many dollars by his being county attorney, in reference to that section, which is applicable to the prosecution of divorce suits. Section 2119 reads: "It shall be the duty of the county attorney to resist every application for a divorce and if successful, in defeating it, he shall be allowed a fee of $20 to be paid by the husband, who may be compelled to pay same by attachment. This section has never been enforced, and when asked about the matter Mr. Clements said: "I am perfectly familiar with the section, but have never enforced it for the reason that most of the divorce suits are brought by parties who are unable to pay any costs, and I did not wish to incur any extra expense. I have missed several fees, and at the same time my firm has suffered, because we can not bring divorce suits while I am county attorney. I see the clerk has put my name on the docket representing the defendant in the divorce suit of Hodgkins against Hodgkins, which was filed yesterday, and of course I will have to resist the granting of the divorce. The law is an old one, and I doubt whether there is a county attorney in the state that ever gives it any attention."

BUCKSKIN BILL'S SHOW.

A Large Crowd Witnesses the Parade This Morning.

The usual large circus day crowd was in the city to-day and during the parade this morning Main street was lined. The parade, of course, presented a wild west appearance. There were frontiersmen, cow girls and Indians in great numbers and there were more than two hundred horses and mules in the parade. A Cheyenne stage coach which no doubt has had a remarkable history, and a genuine prairie schooner were unique attractions, as was also the Mexican band.

Buckskin Bill's show arrived in the city from Grand Rapids early Sunday morning, and the tents were pitched in Helphenshtine's addition. A special train of seventeen cars brought the show to Washington. Buckskin Bill, whose real name is W. F. Brandon, is a typical man of the West and it is claimed that he outkicks the best of them in handling a revolver.

Another notable character is the mysterious Don Gancho Francisco, who hails from Old Mexico, and who performs marvelous feats with a "rriata." E. Mendenhall's shooting with a repeating shot gun is very fine and the impalement act of the Adells, the Mexican ax and knife throwers, is a thrilling performance. The Indians, some thirty in number, are of the Sioux tribe and in some took an active part in the late disturbances at Wounded Knee, South Dakota.—Detroit, Mich., "Free Press," June 11, 1900. Will exhibit in Hopkinsville Wed. May 14.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS is commended by Statesmen, Professional men and thousands of others prominent in the world's activities, for its fine discrimination in sifting the actual news from conflicting report and the presentation of current events in their just proportion. They comment on its freedom from daily-rage sensationalism. All men and women who want to know what the world is doing find it an intellectual necessity, to judge from the letters received from hundreds. Its editorial is comprehensive, and labor saving to the busy man or woman. Its timely contributions on important topics are by the best-informed writers. Its reviews of other magazines give the best of their best work. It is profusely illustrated.

These letters will enable all thoughtful men and women to judge of its value to them:

PRESIDENT
"I know that through its 'Review of Reviews' and appropriate views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

L. A. D. 1508.

This noted harness and saddle and stallion will make the season of 1902 will make the season at my farm, three miles from Fairview, Ky., at $10 to insure. L. A. D. is kind and docile, has no bad habits and any one can handle him. As a show horse he has no equal; he has won four-fifths of all premiums for which he has contested. He has defeated such show horses, that have been prominent in the last ten years, as Dorsey, Estelle, Electrodrye, Ender No. 27, Red Eagle No. 28, Thornton Star, Emily, Red Leaf, Preston, Highland Denmark, Red Chief, and many others of equal fame. He is jet black, with just a little white on each hind heel; is 16 hands high, a model in form and style. As to style, action and grace in motion, he possesses as much as any combined horse living. He can trot in 2:55 or better and goes all the saddle grade with ease.

CHINESE DOCTORS.

A Number of Them Practice Their Art in New York.

Pills as large as walnuts and the bitterest of medicines in pint and quart doses are regularly prescribed and taken in Chinatown without serious loss of life, says the New York World.

There are a score of native Chinese doctors practicing in New York who dose their patients in this manner. These so-called physicians are literally thousands of years behind the medical times, yet by their countrymen they are preferred to American doctors. Not one of them can speak English, or has seen the inside of a medical college.

The proportion of native Chinese doctors to the Chinese population is very large. The Chinese section of the city is also plentifully supplied with Chinese drug stores, where the outlandish herbs, drugs and medicines of the country are temptingly displayed. Neither the Chinese doctors nor their apothecaries are licensed by the County Medical society, nor have they the power to issue death certificates.

When a Chinese doctor loses his patient it becomes a coroner's case. The Celestials, however, manage these things very cleverly. When they find that their patients are likely to die they quickly tell them so, and advise them to call in an American physician, so that the death and burial may be regular.

The Chinese physician is self-appointed. Even in his native country he is not required to pass any examinations or take any degree.

He gains his medical knowledge, such as it is, by reading the Chinese books of medicine and sometimes by practicing under an older physician.

As might be expected, his ideas and methods are startling as compared to those with which we are familiar.

He never takes the pulse or the temperature of his patient. He knows practically nothing about surgery, and is deeply prejudiced against the use of the knife.

He cures, or pretends to cure, by administering concoctions of herbs. When the cure is very serious, as, for instance, when a man is badly mangled, the doctor merely increases the size of the dose.

There are but two forms of treatment, according to this ancient system of medicine. The commonest prescription is the Chinese pill, and seldom more than one of these is prescribed at a time.

These pills are frequently an inch in diameter, and are pretty certain either to kill or cure. The pills are covered with a coating of wax, and are soft and spongy.

It is, of course, impossible to swallow such an object whole, and the pills are slowly eaten. In some cases the medicine is mixed with sugar or some flavoring, which makes them fairly palatable.

The average liquid dose is from a pint to a quart, and is drunk from a bowl at a single gulp.

The Chinese are great believers in the virtues of the extract of certain corals and glands in the cow.

HOW DOCTOR BECAME KNOWN.

Painted His House an Outlandish Color for Advertising Purposes.

A West side physician has hit upon a novel way of attracting attention to his office and setting the tongues of gossip a-wagging. Recently he had his house—a frame structure—painted a most outlandish color. The shade of the paint on the building proper is bad enough, but the border and the color with which he had the veranda decorated are infinitely worse.

The other day a neighboring druggist, referring to the fact that people were commenting on the appearance of his house, asked the doctor why he had chosen so odd a color.

"Well, you see," replied the disciple of Esculapius, "people will talk about Dr. Blank anyway, so I thought I would give them something to talk about."

German Dolls.

It takes 80 men to make a German doll. Each man makes a small portion of the doll, but it is the same bit all the time, and 1,000 dozen dolls can be made in a day in some of the big factories. After the men finish the body portion of the doll the women's work begins. They paint, dress the dolls and pack them for the market.

Electric Light in India.

One provincial town in Bengal, and that a purely native one—Dacca—is entirely lighted by electricity. This is due to the public-spiritedness of the nawab of Dacca, Sir Asaf-ud-Daulah. He had an installation laid down, costing nearly four lakhs of rupees, or over $20,000, at his own expense.

EXCELLENT ATTRACTIONS.

Nothing but The Very Best Will be Furnished.

The attractions that the Wright Carnival Company will have in Hopkinsville May 19 to 24 will surpass anything of the sort ever seen in Kentucky. It is one of the largest, costliest and most reliable companies in the world and has furnished the amusements for most of the big merchant carnivals and Elks' fairs in the United States, and the Hopkinsville lodge is to be congratulated on securing such a meritorious aggregation of high class shows.

It has been especially guaranteed that nothing but the very best will be furnished by them and all exhibitions will be of such a character that ladies and children without male escorts can visit with perfect impunity. This is as it should be, for the carnival period is one of merrymaking for every one, and the day of the cheap, sensational show that attempts to cater to men only is past.

This company erects none of the old-time, worn-out banner fronts, but beautifully embellished gold carved exteriors, and every entrance to a show is a perfect panel structure painted by the best scenic artists in the country, done in oil and gorgeous colors. In fact, when erected, it represents in miniature a permanent world's fair midway, and instead of entering a cheap canvas enclosure it really appears as if one was walking into a well appointed theatre or place of public amusement.

The aggregate cost of this wonderful aggregation runs into six figures.

PROMOTION FOR CALVIN.

Young Teacher is Elected to Head of a Large School.

Prof Jas. M. Calvin, of this county, who is taking a special course at the Bowling Green Normal School, has been elected principal of the public school at Clinton, Ky. He was selected over a large number of applicants.

Prof. Calvin will graduate in about two months and begin his new work September 1st.

He is one of the brainiest and most deserving young teachers this county has turned out. As the Democratic nominee for superintendent of schools last year he made a splendid race and showed his ability with the people. But for the fact that a large number of Democrats regarded the race as hopeless and failed to vote, he would have been elected.

Prof. Calvin has had several years of experience in the best county schools and is sure to make his mark in the larger field of work to which he will go in the fall. To the people of Clinton, we commend him as a gentleman of exemplary habits, excellent character and courteous manners.

GOLDEN CROSS LODGE

Reorganized Here With Twenty New Members.

Hopkinsville Commandry No. 532 M. O. G. C. held a meeting at Anderson's Hall last Thursday night and initiated 22 candidates making about 50 members of the order in the city at this time.

The following officers were elected: Ross A. Rogers, P. N. C. J. H. Eggleston, N. C. Mrs. Lillie Tysman V. N. C. W. W. Joslin, Prelate; W. S. Elgin, F. K. R.; W. H. Eggleston, K. Y. R.; W. W. Walker, Herald; G. B. Drake, W. I. G.; N. O. Bagwell, W. O. G.

Regular Meetings of the Commandry are to be held the first week in each month—night of meeting and place to be determined by W. S. Elgin, R. S. Morefield and W. S. Beales, and place and time announced at an early date.

The increase in membership is through the efforts of C. H. Murphy, D. G. C. of Burlington, who had been at work in the city for the past month. The Golden Cross locally and nationally is in a prosperous condition and is 26-years old.

You Can Lead a Horse

to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food in to a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food.

Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.

Send for free sample. Scott's Emulsion, 100 bottles, 25c each, 10c per bottle.

GRIM REAPER

Adds Another to Large List of Recent Victims.

Mr. J. Wils Boyd, a well-known citizen, died at his home on West Seventh street, late last Thursday afternoon, after a brief illness, of stomach trouble. He was 65 years old and had many friends all over the country who will learn of his demise with much regret.

Deceased is survived by a widow and four children—Mrs. Robt. Mencham, of this county, and Messrs. Ed., Richard and James Boyd, all of Texas.

Mrs. Boyd was in Texas on a visit to her sons when she came.

She returned home Friday night, accompanied by two of her sons, Ed. and Richard.

The funeral took place Saturday afternoon and the remains were interred in Hopewell cemetery.

FORTY OLD TIME FIDDLERS.

Including the "Fiddling Candidates for Congress," Will Participate.

A large number of the best Old Time Fiddlers in this end of the State and Tennessee have been invited to participate in the contest at the Union Tabernacle, Friday night, May 16, and letters of acceptance have been received from nearly all of them. There will probably be forty or more performers present on the occasion.

Judge E. P. Taylor and Hon. John B. Braisher, the fiddling candidates for Congress in this district, have been invited. The former writes that he will try to be present and the latter will no doubt be on hand also. Interest is growing in the matter as the date approaches and not only the city people, but those living in the country as well, will turn out en masse to enjoy the oldtime music and help a most worthy cause—that of reducing the tabernacle debt. "Gov. Bob" Taylor is to be in Cadiz the same week of the contest and an effort will be made to have him participate in the entertainment.

Charged With Larceny.

Artemus McKnight, col., of Howell, was brought to the city Friday and lodged in jail. He is charged with petit larceny.

THE TIME IS PAST

For cheap buggies. Very frequently you see a buggy of a superior make, such as WOODHULL, SCHACHT, TROY or COLUMBUS, that has been used constantly for TEN YEARS, some of them FIFTEEN YEARS. They cost nearly twice as much, but they last four or five times as long, and the people are finding out they have been making a grave mistake in buying the "CHEAP JOHN" grades. We notice this in the brisk trade we are having in the HIGH GRADE WORK this season.

We carry some cheap buggies too for those who haven't the means to buy the best. Our assortment contains a number of wire wheel fancy jobs. We are making good our promise to carry the biggest line of Buggies and Carriages to be found in any one house in the State.

IN FERTILIZERS

We carry ARMOUR, HOMESTEAD, NORTHWESTERN, NATIONAL, OX BRAND and LOUISVILLE, all at low prices. You know what these brands all are.
